DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-40, drawn to a method of treating or preventing cartilage damage with an antagonist to IL-17, classified in class 514, subclass 2.
- II. Claims 1-40, drawn to a method of treating or preventing cartilage damage with an antagonist to LIF, classified in class 514, subclass 2.
- III. Claims 41-44, drawn to a composition comprising an effective amount of IL-17 antagonist, classification dependent upon species.
- IV. Claims 41-44, drawn to a composition comprising an effective amount of LIF antagonist, classification dependent upon species.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because:

Inventions I and II are drawn to methods of treating or preventing cartilage damage, wherein each of the methods is distinct as each requires independent effective ingredients against IL-17 or LIF respectively, which are structurally and functionally distinct, thus, non-coextensive searches are required.

Inventions III and I are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case the product as claimed may be used for the purification of IL-17 or immunoassays thereof.

Inventions I and IV are distinct and unrelated, wherein the products of Invention IV is neither made by nor used in the method of Inventions I, and wherein each does not require the other.

Inventions II and III are distinct and unrelated, wherein the products of Invention III is neither made by nor used in the method of Inventions II, and wherein each does not require the other.

Art Unit: 1646

Inventions II and IV are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case the product as claimed may be used for the purification of LIF or immunoassays thereof.

The antagonist to IL-17 of Invention III is distinct and unrelated from the antagonist to LIF of Inventions IV because they are physically and functionally distinct chemical entities, and require non-coextensive searches.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification and/or recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

If applicants elect group I or II, a further election of species is required:

This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species of the claimed invention: there are more than 26 various cartilage agents listed in claims 17-20, which are used as the second effective ingredient combined with IL-17 or LIF in said method. Each listed agent has a distinct structure and function from the others, and each requires a separate search of the prior art.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, claims 1-16 are generic.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a petition under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
